ALL SORTS.

No regular train came down from orginia last night.

Another patient has been admitted o the Carson branch of the Keeley

The mail from Reno and points East arrived in Carson yesterday aftermoon on the local.

Treasurer Egan, who is in San Francisco under medical treatment is reported as on the mend.

John Wood, the nurseryman, leaves for the Fair tonight-that is, if the blockade don't hold out.

The electric lights were going all right last night, and work will doubtless be resumed at the box factory today.

James Reid and Dan Gray will open a dancing school in Empire Friday night at Wiggin's Hall, Wiggins will have good stabling handy for your horses.

A band of about 25 deer were seen coming down from the mountains about a mile and a half South of Carson yesterday. They crossed the flume and were headed for the Carson river. The storm probably above the value of the material in drove them down.

The citizens of Lovelock, in mass meeting assembled, adopted resolutions requesting the Board of Commisioners to change the time of levying the tax to the first Monday in March. A petition to that effect, signed by every citizen of Lovelock and vicinity was also sent to the Board.

A correspondent of the Reno Journal, under the heading "Great Men Will Differ," comments as follows on the article from the pen of Chas. A. Dana of the New York entire cost of the present re-Sun, praising the Populist for their been contributed by the sharehold course in congress;

Dana was running a one horse daily been experimenting during the past It is thought that after the snow amount to much.

The Navada Midwinter fair commissioners want a lot of grain on the stalk to use in decorating the walls of the Nevada building. It seems rather a foolish request at this time of the year, but if the farmers of Hamboldt have any wheat, barley or oats on the stalk stored away, they will do much toward making our state building at the Fair a success, by shipping it at once to James A. Yerington, Nevada State building, Midwinter Fair, San Francisco, -Silver

"Are you going to the Midwinter Fair?" drawled one "I want to," was the measured answer in a voice like liquid honey, "but I'm afraid I'll have a chance to let my whiskers grow before I get there." Every mouth opened wide, and every eye stared stupidly at her pretty face. She sat serenely unconcious of the sensation she had produced.

Calamities Predicted.

A German professor in Vienna is credited with making predictions that are highly important if worth anything. He is alleged to have predicted that next July or August New York city will disappear under a tidal wave and Florida and Camfornia probably become islands as the vesult of submarine earthquake, also, that a httle more than five years later -namely, November 13, 1899, our earth will collide with the comet 1866, the result of which will be "fireworks can

Not a "White City."

The Midwinter Fair is but white city by any means. The tone of the exterior wall coloring of the buildings is in harmony with the oriental architecture. It is a deep cream or yellow. Roofs are of red tiles or painted in dull reds, while some are blue and green judiciously mixed, and the domes are gilded.

The Guard Party.

Despite the weather the Armory was crowded last night, the occasion being the dance given by the Carson Guard. There was a large delegation of Comstock soldiers with their sweethearts, and the whole affair reflects great credit on the Committee of Arrangements.

Speaking of Scoops.

The APPRAL published the news of hours ahead of any paper in Nevada. If you don't take the APPEAL you show a still larger number of arrivals don't get the news.

CARSON RIVER DREDGE PLANT.

Process of Recovering the Wealth From the Red of That Stream.

For the information of numeorous inquirers as to the process whereby the Carson River Dredge Company expects to recover a portion of the wealth buried in the bed of that stream, representing the precentage of amalgam and quicksilver lost in milling Constock ore, the Enterprise publishes the following description of the company's pla : The cam dredge is operated on heat or seew with a det and a, the lower deck or hold consulning the machinery. This boat in about eighty feet in length. The dredge has a lifting capacity of several hundred tons in twenty-four hours. Another boat of still greater length is equipped with a double line of flumes or sluices. When the material is raised from the river bed it is discharged in the flume and it is washed on the same principal as placer mining. When it leaves the flume it flows over a line of Woodbury concentrators. Tests of these concentrators show that the sulphurets are concentrated to a high percentage ward, had been found frozen to

The tests so far were made with we concentrators and demonstrated to handle the material as rapidly as the company will have all the concentrators in position required to "Wood all gone; Mollie frozen to operating to its full capacity. The

The S. P. Blockade.

The brakeman on the local passenger says at Reno it was not expected that any trains from the west will suburb. It is a Newfoundland dog, reach there before Friday or Saturlay, as the entire line of the Central Pacific, across the snow belt, is strewed with wrecked snow sheds, derailed trains, engines and plows; The rotray plow that was derailed near Cisco with five engines, was still in the ditch last evening and is said to have plunged down the mountain side when it left the rails and was nearly buried. The air was full of rumors of long lines of snow sheds having been blown down during the storm, which is said to have been the fiercest ever experienced in the Sierra Nevada range.

The Central Pacific authorities telegraphed last evening that they expected to have the track clear of obstructions in twenty four hours, but railroad employes at Reno are of the opinion that no trains from the west will arrive in Reno before Saturday. The westbound overland passenger trains are held at division station all along the line west of Reno waiting for the track to be cleared. Two of them were at Reno last night, and yesterday's issue, four men brought another was held at Wadsworth, and items to this office yesterday. the addition of two or three hundred travelers to the population of those towns make lively times for hotels and restaurants.

A number of Comstockers are snowbound on the line of the Central Pacific, among them James G, Rule and Con Abern, who returned to Sacramento where they will tarry until the road across the mountains is cleared of obstructions.

Passengers and mail matter on westbound overland trains that had thwarded Highest Honors at not passed Ogden when the blockade on the Central Pacific snow belt occurred, were sent around by the Southern route. It is probable that the situation on the Northern Pacific is nearly as bad as on the Central, for if that line is unobstructed maits and passengers would have been forwarded over that route.-Enterprise.

Travel Increasing.

The arrival in San Francisco of through passengers by the lines of the Southern Pacific in January were 8548, more than one half or were in the first class. This is the largest record for any January since 1888. It is 1600 more than for the same month last year or the year behe capture of Evans and Morrell 24 fore. It is expected that the present and future months until June will der. overland - Silver State.

TALES OF TERRIBLE SUFFER-ING.

A dispatch from Guthrie, O. T., ells of the awful condition of affairs prevailing in that Territory caused by the blizzards of the past few

The snow is two feet deep. Reports of suffering and death come in from all parts of the Territory. Mrs. Fannie Spence", a homesteader near Croca, was found frozen stiff. Many are living in tents and their condition is awful. Jas, Mulligan, near Perry, was found frozen to death and his partner, Harvey Newcomb, died from exposure. At Ponca, Mr. Cramer and two children were found frezen stiff in coyote burrows ten yards from their abode. Colonel Henry Melton, a cowboy, who was with Buffalo Bill at the World's Fair was discovered by a party of hunters early Monday morning dead under his horse. At Anadarko, two Indian pupils were found Sunday buried under a snowbank. Upon being taken to a house one of the children immediately expired. Monday evening a report reached Guthrie that a family named Sears, near Wooddeath, but no particulars were obtained.

Word comes from Cross that Sherman Stone and family, consistthat with a sufficient number of them ing of his wife and five children, were found sitting about the stove in it is raised by the dredge, a net profit their tent with their throats cut from of from $1,000 to $1,500 per day can ear to par, The following note, be realized from the sulphurets after found on the table near by where they have been run through the Stone was sitting, gives the horrible amalgamating pans. Next Spring story of murder and suicide in connection with the storm:

handle the material with the dredge outh, the rest of us freezing. I have killed my family, and now kill myself to prevent further suffering. God have mercy on us.'

Stone was a homesteader and lived in Reno he would know better. New six years on the best method of re-melts hundreds of dead settlers will York is too far from Ret : to ever covering at least a part of the vast be found, along with the remains of Ate Dynamite For Lunch.

The appetite enjoyed by a dog owned by John Knox, a well known farmer of West Manayunk, is a matter of pride to the natives of that of more than average intelligence and rare digestive powers. Yesterday he started his lunch on a box of axle grease. Then he entered the blacksmith shop of Samuel Sturgis and ate with evident relish two pounds of putty. A visit to Wetherell's grocery store yielded him three pounds of tallow candles, which he devoured with great gusto.

Needing exercise after this he ran over to Ryan's quarry, where his attention was attracted to a stick of dynamite, that was thawed out near the stove. The explosive seemed to suit his taste, and he promptly began to crunch it. A stampede of the men followed. They were afraid to ktck the dog away from his meal for fear of an explosion, so he leisurely consumed the stick and then joined the frightened workmen, who for the rest of the day treated him with marked consideration. -- Philadelphia
